GEN. MILES NOT DEAD

Report of Monday's Battle Greatly Exaggerated.

ONLY A FEW PEOPLE KILLED.

The Situation at Pine Ridge is, However, Very Critical, as the Leading Hostile Chief Declares That He Will Take the Agency if It Costs the Life of Every Warrior He Has—Latest Information from the Frontier.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, S. Dak., Jan. 7.—The report of Monday's engagement sent out from Rushville, stating that Gen. Miles and many of his soldiers had been killed was greatly exaggerated. The full particulars of the affair prove that the general and all of his soldiers are still alive.

A detachment of thirty men had been sent out from the camp to meet a wagon train with supplies for the camp, and when ten miles out the wagons were found besieged by a band of one hundred Indians. On seeing the troops approaching, the redskins scattered in all directions, but immediately returned to the attack on finding the small number of men in the detachment.

A courier was sent back to camp for reinforcements, but in the meantime an incessant fire was kept up on both sides, resulting in the wounding of one soldier and the killing and wounding of several Indians. On seeing the troops approaching, the redskins scattered in all directions, but immediately returned to the attack on finding the small number of men in the detachment.

The seriousness of the situation here, however, is hourly increasing. Short Bull, the leading hostile chief who has distinguished himself all along during this trouble by never for a moment considering any of the overtures looking to an amicable settlement, but who has steadily stuck to his lair in the Bad Lands and has now assumed command of the great body of hostiles, has said that he would take this agency if it cost every warrior he had.

Half-breeds have been informed by the friends and relatives whom some of them have among the hostiles that they had better immediately move their families a long distance from the agency, as a great raid and massacre was certain. The half-breeds are showing what they think of this information by getting their families out out of here with a rush.

The government herder, John Dwyer, and Issue Clerk Pugh have both discovered through their Indian friends of years standing that a raid and massacre has been fully determined upon and maturely planned. Gen. Miles is thoroughly conversant with all these facts and himself says that the situation is exceedingly critical. There are less than 600 soldiers here now, all told.

The party sent to Wounded Knee to bury the dead Indians have returned. They found and buried eighty-four bucks and sixty-three squaws and children. It was also found that five had been buried by the Indians. In addition to this total of 152 we have heard now and then of others who have been carried away by hostile scouts, etc., sufficient to swell the number of dead Indians as a result of the battle of Wounded Knee to fully 200, with several yet to die in the improvised hospital here.

A little Indian baby girl about three-months old, being one of the two miraculously survivors of the battle of Wounded Knee, who lay for three days beside the dead body of its mother, has been adopted by Mrs. Allison Mailor, a wealthy lady of New York city. Maj. John Burke, manager of Buffalo Bill's Wild West combination, stood as godfather to the child and had it christened Maggie C. Mailor. The first name and initial being those of the child's new-found benefactors;

Maj. Whiteside, Col. Carr and Capt. Baldwin, the latter of the Fifth Infantry, have been selected as a board on inquiry into Gen. Forsythe's case. The board will sit as soon as possible and the sessions will probably be open.

Jack Red Cloud and a small party of friendlies came in from the hostile camp last evening. They asked that the Indians now at the agency be sent out to help the Indians who fled from the agency on the night of the battle of Wounded Knee to get away from the hostiles. The authorities look upon the request with distrust and reserve their decision.

Another Threatened Massacre.

FORT TOTTEN, N. Dak., Jan. 7.—Runners are rife here that the 3,500 Indians on the Turtle mountain reservation are liable at any moment to inaugurate a massacre of settlers living along the North Dakota borders. This band of red men, among whom there is a large number of half-breeds, have been ugly for a long time and they have several times given trouble. The troops at this fort are ready to do anything in their power to quell an uprising but their power to do is limited, owing to the fact that the garrison is made up of only one company, less than one hundred men. Company B, Fifteenth infantry, is stationed at Fort Pembina and will be called here in case of an outbreak.

The immediate cause of the present trouble, outside of the general unrest among the Indians in all parts of the northwest is the failure of the United States commission to remove the Indians of the Turtle mountain reservation to White Earth, Minn., to which point they are to be sent. Commissioners Hoyne and Mahone were sent here by President

Harrison early in December, but they remained only one day. They distributed several hundred dollars' worth of presents, but refused to recommend the desired removal. Settlers are in a disturbed state of mind over the alarming situation and have sent a protest to Washington against leaving this band to menace the people.

Considered by the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The cabinet meeting yesterday considered the Indian question, especially with reference to Gen. Miles' proposition to relieve Indian agents of charge of the agencies near the scene of the troubles, and replace them with officers of the army. Secretary Noble is known to be earnestly opposed to such a plan and its accomplishment is therefore a matter of doubt.

RUMORED NAVAL ACTIVITY.
Orders Reported Issued Increasing the Pacific Squadron.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—An Annapolis special to the Times says: Comment is aroused among navy officers over the series of orders emanating from the navy department within the past few weeks, directing the commissioning of warships at San Francisco, and the ordering of various other cruisers to Pacific waters.

Under the present orders no less than eleven war ships and five revenue cutters will soon be in commission in the Pacific and ready for duty. If, in addition, the rumored chartering and arming of seven steamers for revenue cutter duty in Behring sea proves correct, the United States naval force will number twenty-three ships, against the five British gunboats and one armored vessel at present protecting Great Britain's interests in the North Pacific. It is now asserted that the Yantic will be sent from New York to the Pacific. This will increase the above force by still another vessel.

A Washington special to the same paper says that those persons who are interested in the Behring sea controversy have read with some concern those dispatches from Europe which intimate that the British fleet is to be completed in the North Pacific by the fleet of the German Empire. The dispatch says that this does not appear improbable to any one who has been aware of the persistency with which Great Britain and Germany have operated in the Pacific.

Three Men Instantly Killed.

COSHOCTON, O., Jan. 7.—A horrible accident occurred on the Pan-Handle railroad, three miles east of here, yesterday. Sixteen stonemasons, who were employed in building a culvert, started on two hand carts ahead of the Chicago express. They had only proceeded about half a mile when they were struck by the express train and Capt. Wheeler Burgess, Robert Davis and John Kurns were instantly killed and mangled beyond recognition. The rest of the men saved their lives by jumping. The victims are all residents of Steubenville and have large families dependent upon them for support.

Head Collision.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 7.—A special to The Star from Pawnee City, Neb., says: There was a head end collision yesterday between two freight trains on the Rock Island road at Berne, Kan. Engineer Neil Smith, of the eastbound train, was killed. Engineer Thomas Halsey, Fireman Castaman, W. E. Allen and Conductors Wilkins and Ranson were injured, but none fatally. The cause of the wreck is not known. A great amount of property is said to have been destroyed.

The Alliance Control Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 7.—The legislature organized at noon yesterday, the Alliance having a clear majority, and electing temporary officers without trouble. C. H. Pierle, secretary of the state central committee of the Independent party, was elected secretary pro tem. of the senate by a majority of 1. S. M. Elder was elected temporary speaker of the house and Eric Johnson secretary. The temporary speaker is without education or experience, and a turbulent session is confidently expected.

A Midnight Murder.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 7.—At 12 o'clock Monday night John P. Stuard, a local "sport," and the owner of several fast horses, was shot and instantly killed by John Russell, a railroader. The two quarreled over a woman, and then fought. Stuard was getting the best of the fight, when Russell drew his pistol and began firing, shooting his adversary through the heart. Russell was tracked by blood, and soon caught by the police.

The real receivers appointed are E. Fielding of New York, and W. N. Cromwell of Portsmouth.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Jan. 7.—While crossing a swollen stream in Wayne county yesterday a boat containing Fannie Turner, Hattie Roberts and Neilson Wheeler, their escort, capsized. Wheeler deserted the girls and made for the shore. He and Miss Roberts escaped, but Miss Turner was not able to stem the current and was drowned. She was a popular belle.

THE OLD TREATY MADE PUBLIC.

President Arthur, in a message transmitting the treaty to the senate, discusses the benefits and advantages of the canal and recommends favorable action on the treaty.

The treaty is signed by Frederick T. Frelinghuysen, then secretary of state, and Gen. Joaquin Zavala, ex-president of Nicaragua. The first article of the treaty provides that the canal shall be built by the United States, and owned by them and the republic of Nicaragua. Provision is made for a perpetual alliance between the United States and Nicaragua, and the United States agrees to protect the integrity of Nicaragua's territory, and Nicaragua guarantees to the canal and its accessories, and to its agents of all classes, security under the laws of the country against domestic acts of hostility in the same degree as in the case of other inhabitants, employing all its powers for their protection.

The property involved was the cannel coal mines at Cloverport, Ky., valued at $3,000,000.

RELIGIOUS REVIVAL.

Worktown, Indiana, Being Reclaimed From Wickedness.

YORKTOWN, Ind., Jan. 7.—This town is in the midst of a great religious revival, and the people are thinking of little else. About six months ago Rev. John Pittenger came here and commenced to hold meetings at the Methodist Episcopal church, and it was not long until the members of the church had become aroused and many backsliders reclaimed as well as sinners converted, and much interest was manifested. These meetings lasted four weeks with large attendance, then closed, but only for a few days, as the Salvation Army from Muncie took up the work with commendable energy at the Odd Fellows' hall.

Their meetings have now been held in the Methodist church for several days, and all Christian workers are laboring in union. Meetings are held night and day, both men and women forsaking their work as much as possible to attend. No regular sermons are preached, but only reading of the Scripture, prayer and testimonies interspersed with the singing of gospel hymns as well as shouting and praising the Lord. Some of the hardest drinkers here have either been converted or signed the temperance pledge, and the saloons will have to close their doors if the meetings continue much longer.

DOZEN MINERS DASHED TO DEATH.

Precipitated Four Hundred and Fifty Feet to the Bottom of a Shaft.

SAN ANDREAS, Cal., Jan. 7.—An accident occurred in the north shaft of the Utica mine at Angels' Camp, which resulted in the death of ten or twelve men. The skip with the miners aboard was coming up for dinner. When within 150 feet of the top of the shaft the cable parted at the reel, letting the men, skip and one hundred feet of cable fall into the sump at the bottom of the shaft, a distance of 450 feet.

The names of those killed are Joe Carter, William Case, Dan, Dennison, Tom Conovich, John Demaris, Dave McCann, P. Trupich and J. Bristano, four of whom are married and have families. The bodies presented a sickening sight, being fearfully mutilated, one being found without any head and another with half the body and lower limbs. The sump contained about fourteen feet of water. Four bodies have already been recovered, three of which are recognized as Joe Carter, William Case and Dan, Dennison. It is but little over a year ago that a cave-in occurred in the same mine, burying sixteen men, and the slow work of recovering their bodies had nearly been accomplished when this second disaster took place.

MAY BE COSTLY CARELESSNESS.

Oil at Lighthouses Give Out, and It Is Feared Many Wrecks May Result.

KEY WEST Fla., Jan. 7.—An assistant keeper of the lighthouse at Sombrero has arrived to report that the oil at his station is almost exhausted. In fact, his report to the superintendent was to the effect that there was barely sufficient oil to keep the light going one night. Other lights along the reef which are supplied at the same time and in the same quantities as Sombrero must also have exhausted their supply and be in the same predicament, hence the danger to shipping in the gulf will be apparent.

The keeper of Sand Key light, at the entrance of the harbor, and but a few miles from this city, sent in a boat and received a supply of oil, but other lights not so conveniently situated must remain inactive while the oil is out. The supply steamer, which was expected two weeks since, has not put in an appearance, and her delay may prove disastrous.

Already the wrecking vessels at this port are being put in readiness for a rich harvest.

No Advance in Window-Glass.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 7.—The executive committee of the American Window-glass company held a meeting in this city yesterday. The meeting was held for the purpose of arriving at a decision in regard to the non-payment of subscriptions for stock. The matter of prices was also introduced. The plan to have the members of the company pay their subscriptions by installments was talked over, and a recommendation of the idea will probably be made to a meeting of the company to be held shortly. It was decided not to raise the price of glass for the present on account of the unsettled condition of business.

RIOT IN GLASGOW.

Attempt Made to Evict Striking Railroad Employees.

THE MILITARY CALLED OUT.

After a Desperate Fight in Which a Number of People Are Injured the Rioters Are Dispersed—Various Other Foreign Dispatches.

GLASGOW, Jan. 7.—The Caledonian Railway company made a third attempt evict their striking employees from their tenements at Motherwell yesterday afternoon. An immense crowd had gathered in anticipation of the movement, and stone throwing was at once begun. The sheriff read the riot act, and as the crowd did not disperse the military and police charged, and a desperate conflict ensued, in which many of the rioters were injured by blows from the batons of the officers. Six of the injured were removed to hospitals in a serious condition.

The crowd were finally driven from their first position, but were only roused to greater fury by their severe experience, and an attack was at once made upon the station of the railway company. The signal boxes were completely wrecked, and trains arriving were obliged to rush through without stopping in order to avoid injury to the passengers from a bombardment with stones. The military were again called upon to aid the police, and the rioters were at length dispersed after a charge, in which the police used their batons, and the soldiers fired volleys of blank cartridges.

All the miners in the Rotherwell district suspended work Monday evening, and were largely responsible for the riots. There are 20,000 people about the streets at an early hour this morning, and great ill

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1891.

The industrial edition of the Maysville Republican is an excellent one as far as it goes, but it doesn't go far enough. The principal enterprise of the city is not mentioned—simply referred to in an indirect way. We have reference to the James H. Hall Plow Factory. And then but few of the illustrations do the city justice. However, industrial editions can't be published for glory nowadays, and Mr. Clark and Brother Davis could not be expected to go down in their own pockets and pay for advertising the business of others.

Shortest Speech on Record.

The shortest speech on record in the last campaign was made by Clinton Babbitt, who will represent the First Wisconsin district. He is an honest old farmer who was nominated by the Democrats merely as a matter of form, for the district had a Republican majority of 8,000 at previous election. Representative Mills, of Texas, who made a speech in the district, talked for two hours and a half on the tariff, and then there were loud calls for Babbitt. The old farmer walked forward to the front of the platform and said:

"If you want a man to go to Washington and vote for low taxes send me; if you want a man to vote for high taxes send my opponent."

Then he walked back to his seat.

"That is a good enough text," said Mr. Mills to him, "but why did you not preach the sermon?"

"Oh, I can't talk," said Babbitt, "and, besides, what's the use of wasting time when I have no show for election?"

No one was more surprised than Babbitt to learn on the morning of November 5 that he was to be a member of Congress. He did not spend a cent, nor make a speech, nor "hustled" and every Democrat in the district would have sworn on the morning of election day that the Republican lines were unbroken.

What the Postoffice Shows.

The business of the Maysville post-office for the first nine months (just closed) of Thomas A. Davis' first year as Postmaster amounted to over $1,000 more than the receipts for the corresponding period of the previous year. Mr. Davis informs us that this places the office at the highest notch it has ever reached in point of business transacted. The showing is one that he can be proud of, and will be gratifying news to all of our citizens.

The business transacted at the post-office is a fair index to the general business of the city. Let the grumblers and growlers gaze on the above figures and then let them let up.

Maysville's steadily growing. Maysville's all right. We'll get there.

Better to move along slowly but surely, than rush things and run the risk of experiencing the bad effects resulting from the collapse of a mushroom "boom."

SCHOOL NOTES.

HEBRON—NO. 8.

This is a historic point, Old Hebron Church and Hebron school house being in close proximity.

Here is a good, comfortable school house pleasantly situated with ample playground. The school needs more furniture and of better quality, but with such a board of trustees as control the district, this deficiency will soon be remedied. The trustees are: John Wallingford, P. B. Owens and Theodoric Owens—all wide awake to the educational interests committed to their charge.

The teacher is Miss Luella McDaniel, who is thoroughly at home in the school room, holding her pupils under good control. Their various recitations showed good proficiency and I was satisfied that the school is in good hands.

GAULT—NO. 57.

Here is a good school house; has received some repair this season and is in very comfortable condition. The trustees are: Ross Gault, Thos. Allison and David Mulligan. All these have visited the school and manifested an interest in its welfare. The teacher is Miss Annie Allison, who controls and conducts her school with ease and comfort to herself. We heard classes in arithmetic as far as Rags' practical, grammar, geography &c. This school is doing well and we could not discern any ground for criticism. Number of scholars, 32, attendance 25 per day.

TIME FOR ACTION.

Maysville Can Secure Tobacco Warehouses by Proper Effort.

Take Advantage of the Opportunity Now Offered—What General Williams Says on the Subject.

Editor Bulletin: The indifference manifested by the citizens of Maysville and Mason County in regard to the success of the "Kentucky Tobacco Growers' Association" is calculated to create adverse criticism beyond the border of our own county, and may possibly be the means of bringing a feeling of reproach upon ourselves in the future.

The magnitude of this movement can not be conceived at a glance, neither can the vast benefit that will accrue to our people become patent to their minds till a thorough understanding of its purposes are arrived at. The brief mention I shall make of it in this article is not to discuss in full its details, but only to attract your attention to the importance of the people of Mason County making the most aggressive move in their power to secure for Maysville a system of warehouses.

The success of the Tobacco Growers' Association is no longer a question of doubt, and backed up as it is by the influence of every tobacco producing county of Kentucky makes it the most formidable corporation ever chartered in the State. Every objection has been successfully met, every obstacle successfully overcome, and the patronage of the manufacturers is no longer a question for debate.

The movement is in the direction the manufacturer is desirous to encourage, and simply means a business where the producer and manufacturer can meet face to face on their own floors, transact their own business in their own way without the expensive intervention of warehousemen and middlemen, where the manufacturer is guaranteed straight packing and fair dealing, the farmer guaranteed out weight, cheaper fees and a more satisfactory way to dispose of his produce—a plan that conveys the article direct from the producer to the manufacturer; the only successful way by which each can share the full profits of his labor.

The encouragement this great movement is meeting with in every section of the State should spur on our people to their greatest efforts to secure for Maysville what eventually must be the one great tobacco market of the State. Maysville's geographical situation, her shipping facilities and surrounded by the great belt known as the Mason County district tobacco, the most popular grade known to the markets of the world, will naturally attract to her market prominent buyers seeking the most fashionable types of tobacco, and evidently invite heavy consignments from the interior of the State to reap the advantages of being classified and sold as Mason County district tobacco.

As an evidence that nothing has been left undone by your delegates to secure for Maysville and Mason County all that naturally belongs to her, I quote from a letter now before me from General John S. Williams, President of the Board of Directors and Chairman of the committee that locates the warehouses. He says: "If your people are true to themselves there can be no sort of doubt that when our point is carried a house will be established in Maysville, and this is the opinion of the whole committee." I also quote from a letter subsequently written by W. L. Scott, of Shelby County, a Director and member of the Executive Committee, the following: "You may say to your people the next step after locating a house here (Louisville) will be directed to Maysville, and from the present outlook it will be started here much sooner than we expected. If the people will come up with the money, I assure you a house can be put in running order at Maysville by the first of February."

In view of these facts can our people afford to throw away an opportunity thus presented from the lack of proper encouragement?

The future of our county is in our own hands, and it remains to be seen whether our people will permit the golden opportunity of Maysville's life to be snatched from her grasp by less deserving towns, or whether the towering smoke stacks of tobacco factories with the busy hum of enterprise shall mark her future destiny.

CALL FOR A PUBLIC MEETING.

By request, the BULLETIN asks the citizens of Maysville and Mason County to meet in joint convention at the court house next Monday, Jan. 12th, at 1 p.m., to discuss the matter referred to above. Everybody who has the welfare of the city and the county at heart is cordially invited to be present.

A SEVERE ATTACK OF CROUP.

The Child's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

I wish to say to the public that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best I have ever used or sold for croup. I am never without it at my home for my children. Last winter a child of Mr. E. J. Wetzel, one of my customers, was choking with a sudden and severe attack of croup. I gave him a bottle of this Cough Remedy, and he started for home, gave the child two doses of it, which stopped the coughing and smothering instantly and in a few minutes the little one was out of all danger. Mr. Wetzel came back to the store as happy as he could be and said: "That bottle of Cough Remedy saved the life of my child." Furthermore I feel friendly towards you as the manufacturers of such a valuable Remedy and am proud of its being manufactured in our own State. I can cheerfully and willingly give many instances of its good works to anyone that may want a reliable cough remedy.

He Did What He Could.

MEDICINE LODGE, Kan., Jan. 7.—Three children of L. G. Bell, a farmer, strayed away from home on New Year's Day, and their bodies were not recovered till Sunday. The children were aged 8, 6 and 4, and when found were huddled up together, the oldest having evidently made an attempt to protect his little sister and brother.

Miners' Convention Called.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 7.—A call was issued yesterday from the headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America in this city, for the annual National convention of that organization, to be held in Columbus Feb. 10, 1891. The leading question to come before the convention will be the scale of prices, screens, cash payments and especially the eight-hour movement. A secretary and treasurer is to be elected to succeed Robert Watchorn, resigned.

The Deuber Failure.

CANTON, O., Jan. 7.—The 2,000 employees of the Deuber Watch Case works thinks the company's embarrassment will only be temporary and they will soon resume work. The Canton board of trade held a meeting yesterday to consider the affairs of the company and raise funds to aid Mr. Deuber if necessary.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

Interesting Services.

The week of prayer services last evening, held at the M. E. Church, were attended by a large crowd that filled the main room almost to its full seating capacity. A deep interest was manifested, and the speakers, Dr. Hays and Rev. C. S. Lucas, had the closest attention. They delivered short addresses on "The Church Universal."

Altogether there were eight ministers present—the two named above and Dr. Hanford, Rev. W. J. E. Cox, Rev. B. W. Mebane, Rev. J. E. Wright, Rev. J. M. Evans and Rev. D. D. Chapin.

The services to-night will be held at the Christian Church. Subject: "The Church Abroad"—Prayer for increased missionary spirit co-operation and enlargement. The address will be by Rev. G. L. Wharton, late missionary of the Christian Church to India. He is an eloquent speaker and will interest all who hear him. Everybody invited.

Gone to the Pasteur Institute.

James Taylor, the colored man who was bitten by Mr. G. W. Geisel's dog while the animal was thought by many to be mad, left yesterday for New York, for treatment at the Pasteur Institute. He has been very nervous and excited ever since he was bitten, fearing that he would be attacked by the dread disease.

It has not been definitely settled as to whether the dog was really mad. As stated some days ago, the animal's brain was sent to Dr. Gibier, of the above Institute, who inoculated several animals with it, but the result of that test has not yet been received here.

Greenwood Opera Company.

This splendid company will pay us a return visit on Saturday next, January 10, giving "The Hermit," a new opera by Serpette, which they have been doing all this season. The company was here some time last month, and those who heard it praised it very highly. The company deserved better patronage then and now that it is known here should insure them a crowded house Saturday night.

He has resigned his position with the Washington as Superintendent of agencies for Ohio and Kentucky, and has accepted a similar position with the North-Western Mutual. His headquarters will be at Nashville, and he will have charge of the agencies in Tennessee and Alabama. He has done splendid work for the Washington, and was induced to leave it only by the offer of a much handsomer salary. Mr. Stanton has been at the business about two years now, and, for the time engaged, his record as a life insurance solicitor ranks right along with the best.

ONE of our exchanges says: "The Harvard Quartette Company gave the finest entertainment last night that has been witnessed at the Odeon during the present season. This is a strong statement, but it is a fact. The Quartette are not only composed of wonderful voices, but have achieved such a perfection in training, blending, time, accent, fine modulation and exquisite harmony, that the effects are simply electrical." The Quartette will appear at the opera house on Monday evening, under the auspices of our Lyceum Bureau. The box sheet is now ready at Nelson's hat store, where holders of tickets can secure their reserved seats. Tickets are also for sale to parties who only wish to purchase for the single entertainment.

Chester Council Doings.

The Trustees of the town of Chester met last night, pursuant to an adjournment. All members present. The mayor's annual report was read and accepted. It showed the total fines, $144; paid, $66; remitted, $92; worked out, $6. The total income received was $43. The Committee on Settlement of the Officers asked for further time, as the Marshal was called away and could not be ready. Granted. The poll books of the election May 1st were called for, and were ordered by H. H. Collins in the First ward, C. P. Doster in Second, and G. W. Shinn in Third having received a majority of the votes cast were declared elected Trustees for two years, or until their successors are elected and qualified.

The chairman asked the newly elected Trustees to come forward and be sworn in. They produced a certificate from Mayor Pearce, of Maysville, that they were duly sworn in, but the Chair declared this was not law, as they had no certificates. They were then sworn in and took seats as the trustees.

Fred Dressel, Chairman, vacated the chair, and the Clerk, G. M. Cling, presided and declared nominations to order for that man. H. H. Collins and Fred Dressel were put in nomination. The first ballot was: Collins 3, Dressel 12. —1.

The Chair declared no election. The second ballot was taken with the same result. Third and fourth ballots stood 3 for Collins and 3 for Dressel.

The Trustees adjourned without any election.

MINER'S AXIMS

In to-day, already stalks to-morrow.

Half a century and more ago a brand new dealer swung his modest sign to catch the trade winds.

The sign was small and contained but two words, MINER'S SHOES, but those who stopped to examine the limited stock found them good shoes for wear, and told their neighbors.

Dealers did not advertise in the papers much in those early days; they depended on their customers doing the advertising.

Gradually the stock grew larger and the customers more frequent and regular, and the little acorn of enterprise had begun to shape itself into the full-grown oak.

As the years went, faster went the shoes, and carried the well-earned fame of the pioneer store for miles around.

To-day, when people find they need shoes they always think of Miner's shoes — a household phrase.

It is not likely that such a reputation for selling good shoes could have been obtained without giving full value in wear.

AN IMPORTANT QUESTION.

The United States Sued for the Payment of Southern Bonds.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 7.—Jacques Van Raalte, a native of Rotterdam, Holland, but who resides and does business in Glasgow, where he is also consul for the Netherlands, instituted suit yesterday against Hon. James G. Blaine, as secretary of state of the United States. Prior to July 28, 1868, the plaintiff bought at their full value $125,000 negotiable coupon bonds issued by the southern states. On that day Hon. William H. Seward, then secretary of state, issued a proclamation which recited, among other things, that "neither the United States nor any state shall pay any debt of obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, but all such debts and obligations shall be illegal and void."

The plaintiff contends that the proclamation contained an implied admission that without such prohibition the debt or obligation would be good and valid. He alleges that the proclamation of the secretary of state was an illegal interference with the rights of the plaintiff, as a citizen of Great Britain and Holland, by reason of treaty stipulations between the United States and Great Britain and Holland. The case presents many curious points. The principal point that will be contended for, is that the United States has always held that none of the southern states were ever out of the Union, that the secretary of state in his official capacity, had no authority to issue any proclamation tending to impair the obligations of any state, and that such obligations in the way of bonds are binding on, and are bound to be paid by the state issuing such bonds. The bonds in question are state bonds and Confederate state bonds jointly.

AMONG THE TOILERS.

Trainmen Ask an Advance from the Pennsylvania Company—Other Labor Items.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 7.—Every division superintendent of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh was visited yesterday by committees of trainmen, who asked an advance in wages. The committees were composed of men employed on the division governed by the superintendent on whom the men called.

They presented a list of grievances, the most important of which specifies that they shall be paid by the mile instead of by the trip. They ask an increase of seventy-five cents a day for freight conductors and thirty-five cents for freight brakemen. The conductors now get $2.50 a trip and the brakemen $1.75 for the same run. They now ask that they receive three and one-half and two and one-tenth cents respectively for every run of one hundred miles, and every run between sixty and one hundred miles shall be counted as a run of one hundred miles.

Strike Against Non-Union Men.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 7.—About one hundred plasterers, carpenters, timmers, hod carriers and granite cutters employed on the government building, struck yesterday. The trouble is alleged to have been caused by the employment of non-union men by Pope & Company, of Chicago, who havethe contract for steam heating. The men employed by Mr. Pope have offered to join the union. The delegates want the men to go back to Chicago. The various contractors will probably hire new men to take the places of the strikers.

Explosion of Dynamite.

ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 7.—A terrible explosion of dynamite took place at the stone quarries at Tyrone forge yesterday, in which two Hungarians were badly injured. It seems that a drill hole had been filled on Monday with dynamite and for some reason failed to explode, and this morning the men were engaged in clearing out the charge when an explosion followed, injuring the Hungarians in a frightful manner, their heads, faces and bodies were a mass of scars and bruises and their escape from instant death was a miracle.

Riot at a Religious Meeting.

ENGLISH, Ind., Jan. 7.—Last night during a religious meeting at West Fork, in this county, a riot started among the members of three large families—the Lowes, Wisemans and Baggerlys. Pistols, knives, stones, cudgels and fists were used with a vengeance. Five men are lying at the point of death as a result of the conflict, and others are less seriously injured. The worst injured are William Lowe, William Wiseman, John Wiseman, Robert Baggerly and Ed Jones.

Counterfeiter's Safe Discovered.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 7.—United States Marshal Furay has been notified of another discovery in connection with the counterfeiting den recently raided. A railroad employee discovered a huge safe under a pile of rocks near Gray Cliff, not far from the cabin where Ellis was recently arrested, and the counterfeiters' tools confiscated. The safe contained a lot of spurious silver dollars and halves, as well as dimes and tools used in the manufacture of the same.

Gang of Burglars Run Down.

AKRON, O., Jan. 7.—A gang of boy burglars has been run down at Kent, of whom twelve are from here. They range in age from 9 to 12 and have been carrying on a systematic course of thievery for the past three months. They possessed duplicate keys of business houses in town, and an old glass-works, now deserted, served as a hiding place for them and their spoils. Detectives have been working on the case for some time.

Republican Conference.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 7.—There was a conference here yesterday of leading Indiana Republicans with their state central committee. It was to devise plans for reorganization and to suggest methods for educating the voters of Indiana in Republican principles. While the causes of the last defeat were frequently canvassed confidence was repeatedly expressed in the ability of the party to achieve a victory in 1892. This it was argued could be done by extending the circulation of Republican newspapers. The committee, in place of Louis T. Michener, resigned, elected John K. Gowdy, of Rushville, chairman.

AN ENGLISH CITY IN AMERICA.

Englishmen Predominate in the Principal Cities of Chile.

Valparaiso, the port of Santiago, and the principal port of the republic, is quite an English city. "The Chilian will not be pleased to read that statement," suggested a friend at my elbow. "Can it be denied?" I ask. "Is not the whole aspect of the place English? Is not the bay full of English ships? Do you not hear English spoken everywhere as soon as you get ashore? Do not the public houses bear the familiar old sign boards of the 'Royal Oak,' the 'Queen's Arms,' the 'Red Lion,' 'All the World's Corner?' Here is the suave English chemist, whose speech is so precise; the English bookseller, three or four of them with fine shops; the English doctors by the dozen; English grocers, who sell bacon and pickles and style themselves 'Italian warehousemen,' according to the classical tradition of their guild; English shopkeepers of all kinds; English hotels, and, of course, an English newspaper.

"What are all those tall and slender girls, with blonde hair, queer hats, loosely fitting dresses, a rather ungraceful although athletic walk, an incomparably fine quality of rose and white flesh, such as Reynolds—Sir Joshua, I should say—loved to paint, are they not unmistakably English girls? Up there on the hill do I not spy an English church? All these business blocks, house after house, are not the firms English, with an intermixture of German? If you take away the English firms from Valparaiso, what remains?"

"True," replied my friend. "It is quite true." "I will even go further, and ask what is left of Chile if you take the foreigners away, particularly the English and the Germans?" "Good gracious! I hope you are not going to put these fearful ideas into print. You alarm me."

"What will you?" I replied. "A stranger visiting Chile for the first time, and imagining vaguely that it is some far away and delightful Paul and Virginia country—as it truly is—a country of great wealth and beauty, vast in extent, varied in aspect, and still full of the energy and chivalry of the conquistadores, is surprised to find that the descendants of the conquistadores are very few in number relatively to the extent of their territory and the age of their settlement.

"He is struck, above all things, by the prominence and ubiquity of foreigners in the practical management and organization of the great business enterprises, and even of the great private fortunes of the land. You, who are living here, do not notice the phenomenon so much as one who has arrived freshly. For instance, we will suppose you come to Chile by way of the Strait of Magalhaens. In Tierra del Fuego you are astonished to find a station of English missionaries, who have taught the Indians to be kind to shipwrecked mariners, and not to eat them as they formerly did.

In Punta Arenas the great sheep farming enterprises are in the hands of Englishmen. Valdivia is simply a German colony, the most flourishing and charming in the republic, troubled only by too numerous bands of cattle lifters and brigands, who also plague the English, French and Swiss colonies in the old Araucanian territory. Now we come to the coal coast, and the first proprietors we find are the 'Arauco company, limited, London,' also owners of a railway, at the hands of whose English managers I received kind hospitality. The Lota and Coronel mines belong to Chilians—the Cousino family—but the managers are all English. The managers of the Cousino agricultural estates are likewise English.

In Talcahuano and Concepcion all the business on a large scale is done by English or Germans. The railway from Talcahuano to Santiago and Valparaiso was built by English engineers; many of the higher employees are English; so, too, are a majority of the engine drivers. All the state railways, as it is remembered, were paid for almost exclusively with the money obtained from British loans. Valparaiso is incontestably English. In the mining districts Englishmen and English capital predominate."—Theodore Child in Harper's.

Untempered Mortar.

Many persons are very skilful in applying texts of Scripture to the ordinary affairs of life, but few could make a more apt application of a text to a disagreeable incident than did an old bricklayer named Reuben Smith.

Reuben was engaged in laying the brick of a chimney in a house where—as it was winter—the mortar pen was placed in one of the lower rooms to keep the mortar from freezing. Work was progressing finely and Reuben's head was already on a level with the second floor, when he trod on a loose board near one end of his scaffolding. It gave way, and Reuben fell to the floor below.

Fortunately he was unhurt, but as his feet touched the floor he lost his balance, staggered backward, and fell flat in the pen of soft mortar.

As he scrambled out, smeared from head to foot with the sticky mess, some one who knew his fondness for Scripture quotations called out banteringly, "Well, Uncle Reuben, can't you apply some text of Scripture to your present condition?"

Reuben thought an instant and replied, "Why, yes; I'm like the wall that Ezekiel says was built by the false prophets."

"How was that?" inquired the other. "Oh," explained Reuben, "Ezekiel says it was daubed with untempered mortar."—Youth's Companion.

He Was the Man.

"A confidence man—yes, we are a sharp crowd, but occasionally our smartness gets us into trouble," said one of the schemers to a reporter. "I attended the Grand Army encampment at Boston. I had an old veteran in tow one night talking war with him for all I was worth. I said I was at the old field of Gettysburg and slept in an old barn about half a mile east of the town the night after the third day's battle.

"He looked up suddenly at this. 'Was it a red barn?' he asked. I said yes. 'And did another soldier sleep with you?' I don't know why I was so thoughtless, but I answered 'yes.' He jumped at me and yelled, 'Give it back to me, you thieving scoundrel!' 'What?' said I. 'My pocketbook. You took it, you lying villain!' Well, sir, it took me a half hour of the hardest talking I ever did to convince that old vet that it was another barn."—Seattle Journal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Secretary Windom yesterday fixed the salary of Miss Phoebe Cousins as secretary of the board of lady managers of the world's fair at $2,000 per annum.
